Summary

A big kid playing with code and pixels I'm passionate about the interactive digital experiences through code and design. Skilled in HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, Web and Game Development with a strong focus on creating responsive, user-friendly websites. I love blending creativity with technical problem-solving, whether it's building web games, optimizing content for ADA compliance, or crafting immersive UI/UX designs. Always a positive attitude, Always curious. Let's create something awesome together!

Experience

PGD

Experience Technology (XT Engineer - Frontend )
November 2015 - Present (9 years)
Costa Rica

Gained deep exposure to the demands of multiple industries, being the fully dedicated developer for ADA compliance and working with other team members for integrating best practices into web development to meet the evolving needs of clients.

Contributed to the development and maintenance of client websites in the banking, chemical, and automotive sectors among others, directly improving user experience and supporting customer engagement. Played multiple roles, including tracking/tagging specialist, frontend Accessibility and web content development, which allowed the company to reduce costs by avoiding the need for additional hires.

Accenture

Web Developer Analyst
August 2014 - November 2015 (1 year 4 months)
Costa Rica

Led the implementation of critical site search functionality for a big client in the USA banking industry, preventing potential revenue loss by addressing development integration issues promptly. Consistently delivered solutions for all projects under tight deadlines, contributing to business success and client retention. Delivered quality work without direct supervision, ensuring client confidence and trust. Proactively kept up with industry trends, such as ADA compliance. Led the optimization of workflow and estimates processes, delivering projects efficiently and ensuring that critical deadlines were met consistently. Streamlined agile content development team operations, resulting in faster development cycles and better team performance.

Web Designer

2013 - 2014 (1 year)

Heredia, Costa Rica

Worked collaboratively with a partner to ensure that the freelance business maintained a healthy work environment, balancing roles and responsibilities effectively to meet both professional and personal goals.

Helped grow the business by expanding service offerings, including web design and digital marketing, which attracted new clients and allowed for diversification and since then I have been multidisciplinary.
